NOTES

In the movie FORBIDDEN PLANET, Dr. Morbius explained that there were 10 crew members on the BELLEROPHON.

A lifeboat is not expected to have a lot of space set aside for fuel, air, food, water, etc. It can probably only land on a planet once. Compare this to the C57D (from only one generation later) which is a self-contained interstellar space cruiser, complete with weapons, a hyperdrive, a robot, etc.

I hope these pages provide you with some pleasure, information, and ideas for contemplation and/or consideration.

If I missed something, please let me know.
